

The Daily Courant.

Thursday, July 15 1703

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 19.

THEY write from Vienna of the 7th instant, that two days before they receiv'd Advice, that the Malecontents of Hungary, after their Defeat at Olha rallied, and march'd in a Body to Mongatz: But that the Prince de Montecuculi having pass'd the Tibiscus with some Troops, surpriz'd them, kill'd 400 on the Place, and put the rest to the Rout; that Prince Ragotzi who was at the Head of them escap'd very narrowly, one of his Pages being kill'd, and his Valet de Chambre taken Prisoner: 5 Standards were taken from the Rebels. These Letters add, that the Departure of Prince Eugene for Italy, is deferr'd for a while; and that in the mean time he has remitted Bills thither for 5 or 600000 Ducats.

From the Harlem Courant, dated July 21.

Basil, July 11. The French Ambassador, Monsieur de Puiseux, has acquainted the Deputies of the Cantons of Bern and Zurich at Baden, that he has Orders from the King his Master to represent to them, that his Majesty is very much dissatisfied at their Principals having oppos'd their Arms to his on the Frontiers of Germany; and that if they do not withdraw their Troops out of Lindau, or if they send any more Forces into the Places belonging to the Imperialists on the Lake of Constance, he would look upon them as Enemies and treat them accordingly. Who return'd his Excellency this Answer, That as their Principals had not intermeddled in the King of France's Affairs, they hoped the King would not offer to prescribe Rules to them, nor take it ill if they oppos'd Force with Force; And therefore, that they would not withdraw their Protection from Lindau and the other Places belonging to the Imperialists on their Borders.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 21.

Ausburg, July 12. Letters from Inspruck of the 10th instant advise, that the Elector of Bavaria was then in that City. That he had detach'd some Troops to possess themselves of the Pass of Clausen situate between Brixen and Bolzano; but that 'twas believ'd it would be found a difficult Enterprize, the Peasants in that part of the Country having taken Arms.

From the Harlem Courant, dated July 21.

Heylbron, July 14. The Marshal de Villars is encamp'd at Lauingen, has laid 3 Bridges cross the Danube, and sent most of his Cavalry over it. On the 5th the Elector of Bavaria arriv'd from Tyrol in the Camp of the Marshal de Villars; he made so much Expedition that he rode down 3 Horses. His Cavalry is coming after him, and will be follow'd by his Infantry.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated July 21.

Amsterdam, July 20. They write from Genoa of the 30th of June, that they had Advice from Thoulon, that since the arrival of Monsieur de Coetlogon's Squadron from Brest, Monsieur de la Valette is come thither from Port Louis with 8 Men of War. That there are now 40 Men of War at Thoulon, among them 8 or 10 of from 80 to 110 Guns; but that they are but ill mann'd.

Lorrain, July 14. The French Letters say the Marshal de Vauban, having attended the King and his Ministers thrice, is gone for Strasburg. The Count de Thoulouze was to set out from Paris on the 10th, to be at Thoulon on the 15th, and put to Sea on the 17th. They give out at Paris, that by the 15th the Duke of Burgundy will have 55 Battallions and 70 Squadrons under his command, and will then attempt something considerable. The Captain of the Marshal de Bouffler's Guards who brought the News of the Fight at Eckeren, was rewarded with 1000 Crowns.

Basil, July 10. The Marshal de Vauban and Monsieur de Melac are come to Strasburg; where 300 Waggons loaded with Ammunition of all sorts, and 4 Battallions, arriv'd on the 7th; and 'tis said more are expected.

Frankfort, July 15. The Enemy in marching up from Langenicheydel towards Strasburg, suffer'd very much through the badness of the Ways, and lost abundance of Men by Desertion. The Imperial Generals have since sent a Detachment of Horse and Dragoons to Kroon-Weyssenburg. The Deserters assure us, that after the French have rested a while, to refresh themselves, they will repass the Rhine and fall into the Kintziger Dale: To which end the Governour of Fort Kehl is order'd to mend the Ways and repair the Bridges that are to be pass'd in that March.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated July 19.

From the Camp near Lillo, July 16. On the 14th the Troops of which this Camp is form'd, being drawn out in Battallia, General Slangenburg made them the following Compliment.

' Their High and Mighty Lordships the States General, and their Noble and Mighty Lordships the Council of State, have commanded me to return Thanks on their part, to you the Superior and Inferior Officers, and you the Soldiers, for the Bravery, Courage, and Zeal, you shew'd in the Battle fought on the 30th of last Month. I am order'd to tell you, that on all Occasions, they will give you Proofs of their Acknowledgment. This Honour of giving you Thanks, is the more pleasing to me, in regard I had that of Commanding in Chief in that Action.

The 4 Regiments that suffer'd most in the Fight at Eckeren, have receiv'd Orders to go into Quarters, viz. that of Fagel to Grave, that of Freysheim to the Hague, that of Weyghe to Swol, and that of Nassau Saarbruk to Bolduc: And the Regiment of My Lord Lorne, two Regiments of the Troops of Zell, a Battallion of the Regiment of Tscherner, and the Regiment of Lillemarais, will come hither in their room.

The Enemies Army being encamp'd without their Lines, we expect the Duke of Marlborough will also decamp; And we are order'd to be at our Arms on the first Signal. General Coehorn has caus'd a Bridge to be laid over the Schelde between Lillo and and Liefkenhoek, to facilitate the Communication of his Troops with ours and the Grand Army: That General is posited so advantageously, that it will be very difficult, not to lay impossible, for the Enemy to dislodge him. Besides the Fort of Kildrecht, which he took some days ago, he has made himself Master of Fort Rouge, and that call'd the Devil's House.

Hague, July 18. General Slangenberg's Adjutant, who brought hither the Standards, Colours, and Kettle Drums, taken at Eckeren, has been presented with a Medal and Chain of Gold on the part of the States General. Who have order'd a certain Sum of Money to be given as a Reward for each Standard, Colours, and Kettle-Drum, to the Persons that took them; to which end the General Officers are directed to signify the Names and Qualities of those Persons, and how long they have been in the Service.

Falmouth, July 10. Yesterday a Fleet which consisted of above 300 Sail, composed of Men of War and Merchant Ships under Sir Cloudfly Shovell, pass'd by this place to the Westward. Three days ago a Merchant Ship of 24 Guns, brought in a French Ship of 16 Guns, laden with Wines from Bourdeaux.

London, July 14. The Queen and His Royal Highness the Prince of Denmark, will go to the Bath about the middle of next Month.

Her Majesty has given Orders for making out Commissions for Raising a Regiment of Dragoons of French Refugees in England and Ireland, to consist of 20 Troops, 50 in each Troop, and to be commanded by the Duke of Schomberg.

AT the Theatre Royal in Drury-Lane, on Friday the 16th of July, will be reviv'd a Comedy (not Acted these Fifteen Years) call'd, The Fools Preferment, or, The Three Dukes of Dunstable. To which will be spoken a new Prologue, to introduce the Reading of that spoken by Mr. Betterton to the University of Oxford; in which are some Reflections on the Judgments of the Town. With a new Epilogue in answer to it.

ON Wandsworth-Hill in Surry (about Five Miles from London, and a quarter of a Mile from the Thames) a House pleasantly situated, with Stable, Coach House and Garden, is to be Lett. Enquire at the House, or of Mr. Peters in Bow-Lane, Cheap-side.
